

Clinical Supervisor Code of Ethics

Clinical Supervision is the process of upholding the ethical standards of the profession and ensuring the professional development of those in training. Clinical Supervisors shall be the professional agent assuming the responsibility for overseeing the processes of ethical development and clinical practice.

Clinical supervision embraces a potential ethical vulnerability; therefore, clinical supervisors shall recognize their influence on the development of human behavior and those under their supervision. They shall be aware of ethical and legal ramifications of the supervision process. Clinical Supervisors shall be responsible for self-evaluation and be accountable to professional review as is consistent within the current scope of addiction services and standards.

Clinical Supervisors shall uphold the Code of Ethics and Standards of Practice; and, have a responsibility to ensure that Trainees receive the supervision necessary for professional development.

I affirm, understand and will adhere to the Code of Ethics and understand that any violation of the principles will be grounds for disciplinary action and sanctions in accordance with GPAICB policies and procedures as outlined in the GPAICB Policies & Procedures manual. I understand that ethical violations can result in disciplinary actions and sanctions prohibiting any further clinical supervision of trainees recognized by the GPAICB and/or disciplinary actions and sanctions against my credential as an Addiction Counselor.

By checking this box, I hereby attest that I have read and will comply with the Code of Ethics and Standards of Practice of the Great Plains American Indian Credentialing Board.

This application will not be processed if you fail to read the Code of Ethics and have not checked the box above.
